

Vincent Roger joined Leti in 2013 as Strategic Partnership Manager for Transport & Mobility.

His responsibilities include developing relationships with international industrial partners in close collaboration with all Leti departments especially in the field of Automotive.

Prior to joining CEA, Vincent held a number of positions in marketing and sales at Thomson Multimedia. In that job he participated in numerous projects in Germany and France involving end-to-end digital TV networks from TV studios down to set-top boxes.

More recently, he served as marketing & sales director for Xenocs, a startup company in the field of x-ray metrology equipment and multilayer optics. In that role, he focused on the development of strategic partnerships worldwide. He graduated in marketing and technology management from Grenoble Ecole de Management in France.
