

Dr. Bami Bastani

Bami Bastani is the Senior Vice President for the CMOS, RF and ASIC Business Units at GLOBALFOUNDRIES.

Dr. Bastani has more than 35 years of experience in high-tech industry, spanning from semiconductor components to system-level network solutions. He has served as an independent Board member in multiple public and private companies.

Prior to joining GLOBALFOUNDRIES, he was president, CEO and board member of Meru Networks (NASDAQ: MERU), a global enterprise-grade Wi-Fi networks solution provider from March 2012 to July 2015 when the company was acquired by Fortinet.

Bastani has also held positions of president, CEO and board member in the mobility, consumer and broadband markets, including president and CEO of Trident Microsystems, Inc., B2 Global Consulting, and ANADIGICS, Inc. In addition, he has served in executive positions at Fujitsu Microelectronics, National Semiconductor. He started his career at Intel Corporation in Technology Development (PTD).

Dr. Bastani has 3 patents in semiconductor technology. He holds a Ph.D. & MSEE in Microelectronics from The Ohio State University.